May 1, 2020

Hello everyone,

I hope that this update finds you well. I am happy to inform you that we continue to have no active cases of COVID-19 at any of our 17 locations.

As you are aware from my last COVID-19 update, we are working with Public Health and area hospitals to have all residents and staff at our long-term care homes tested for COVID-19. We expect that this will occur next week once we have completed the consent process and a schedule for conducting the tests has been established. This universal testing will provide us with information to enhance our current efforts of preventing the spread of the virus. We will provide further information as it becomes available.

I want to thank you again for being so supportive and understanding during this difficult time. As we go into the first weekend of May, the weather experts are predicting that the weather is going to be beautiful. I hope that many of you will get the opportunity to go outside and enjoy some social distancing in the sun.

As always, we will continue to post new information on the Thrive Group website at www.thrivegroup.ca and on our Face Book page.

Please continue to look after yourself and stay well!
